DIG INTO LONG AGO, SEEKING HEIRSHIP TO $15,000

Two Sets of Jacksons Fighting to Prove Relationship to Man Who Died Here

NEW CLAIMANTS HAVE NOT SHOWN THEIR HAND

Family Disturbance of 1878 Recited In Proof Offered By An Attorney

Steeped in the mystery of the secretiveness of a man who seemed to wish to forget his past life and his relatives, two sets of claimants have entered the superior court in an effort to prove heirship to John Jackson, who died in a tank and a drunken stupor, alone in a fifth-house, on June 27, 1913.

Jackson left an estate valued at $15,000. Until recently it was believed that the residue of the estate would have to go to the state, for no heirs had come forward to claim it.

Now there are two sets of heirs, each digging into the memories of long ago in the hope of proving that John Jackson was a relative.

First came Attorney George K. Ford of San Francisco, representing easterners who asserted that John Jackson was their cousin. His clients are Mrs. Emma Switzer of Wheeling, Mo., Edward Jackson of Terrell, La., David L. Jackson of St. Cloud, Mo., George W. Jackson of Pittsburg, Kan., and John and W. A. Jackson, addresses not given.

The stories told by these heirs goes back into the sordid details of family differences. It was about 1877 that the father of John Jackson—whether the John Jackson who died near Santa Ana in 1913 or not remains for the court to decide—died. Declaring that he was "done out of his share" John Jackson left his mother, taking some money with him and for about two miles he lived with an uncle and cousins, the same cousins who are today declaring that they should receive the estate. This home was near Chillicothe, Mo.

Was Troublesome

John was hard to get along with. He thought his uncle treated his children much better than he did John. One morning a cup of coffee was handed to John. It was the first cup from the pot, and John protested that he always got the worst of it, that the first cup was always the weakest. That led to a quarrel, and John left the place.

He went to work in a sawmill for a man named Swiheart. About 1880 he went west with Swiheart, and the last heard of him was when Swiheart returned and said John was in Arizona.

Edward Jackson, one of the claimants, declared that John, his cousin, had one hand crippled in a sawmill. That distinguishing disfigurement may play an important part in the inquiry into who the true heirs are, for the John Jackson who died here had part of one hand missing. Edward gives the date of his cousin's birth as about 1835 or 1836. The Jackson who died here was 77 years old when he died.

Another Set

Today Attorney Charles D. Swanner of Santa Ana filed a contest of the claims of the heirs represented by the San Francisco attorney. Swanner represents easterners whose addresses have not been made public, but whose claims Attorney Swanner asserts are going to be proven as far superior to those of the other claimants. Swanner states that his clients are in no way related to those who have already presented their claims to relationship to John Jackson.

Swanner represents Mrs. Eva J. Bond and their heirs of John Henry Jackson. The claim is based upon the allegation that John Jackson had a brother, Warren F. Jackson, whose children were Mrs. Bond and John H. Jackson. Warren F. Jackson is dead. Mrs. Bond claims half of the estate as a niece, and asserts that the other half should go to the widow and children of John H. Jackson.

Peculiar Character

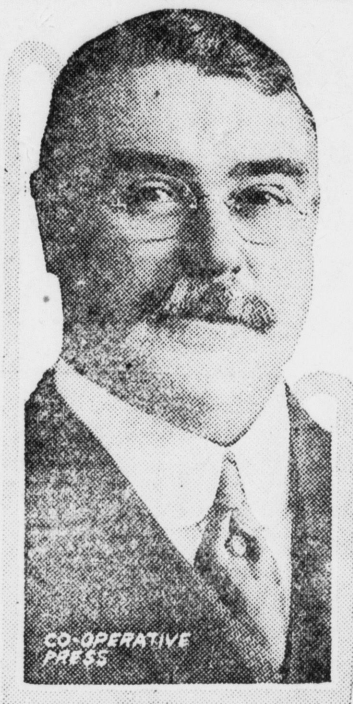

John Jackson, who died here, was a frontiersman, unmarried, and for twenty years a resident of this section. Jacob Yaeger, Trabuco canyon miner, stated that he first met Jackson in 1880 when Jackson was a government scout and Indian fighter, at Ft. McKenzle, Colo., a position that Yaeger says Jackson held for four years. Jackson was a hard drinker, at least during the last years of his life. He had twenty acres on West Fifth street, where he lived when not on a claim near Yorba. His past life was a subject seldom discussed by Jackson.

Jackson's house here burned down, and he lived in a tankhouse. He died while on a spree. His body was found two or three days after death. Public Administrator Winbiger has had charge of the estate.

AUSTIN COLGATE'S ambition to be the Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, and sit in the chair Woodrow Wilson occupied, has led him to buy an interest in the two Newark newspapers of James Smith, Jr., sold when the Democratic politician went into bankruptcy. ## POLITICAL AND JOURNALISTIC IDEALS

The Register finds in a recent utterance of Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, a great deal of warm comfort, both politically and journalistically. Mr. Lane is a big, brave, brainy, independent man, a real statesman, so recognized and acclaimed by men of all parties; and it is certainly comforting to find him lauding the political and journalistic ideals for which this newspaper stands.

Listen to Secretary Lane:

"This country is growing more non-partisan every day. It is asking for an efficient and an honest government, and is becoming more indifferent as to the labels which, for purposes of co-ordinated action, men bear."

"And somehow it matters very little what any of us may say regarding the merits or demerits of a party, for minds are seldom brought to a conclusion by political speeches or political articles. THE NEWSPAPER WHICH DAILY TELLS THE STORY OF WHAT IS DONE GIVES TO THE CITIZEN THE BASIS FOR A JUDGMENT WHICH HE MAKES INDEPENDENT OF PARTISAN APPEAL."

SENIORS START CAMPAIGN FOR HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Students to Circulate Petitions Asking For Submission Of A Bond Issue

Taking the lead, the senior class of the Santa Ana High School has started a campaign for the erection of a high school auditorium. The students are to circulate petitions addressed to the Board of Education, asking that steps be taken at once to get the addition to the high school equipment.

Russell Adkinson, Charles McClain, Bernard Packard, Lloyd Cleaves, Raymond Keeney, Marvin Greathouse, Calvin Landersbach and Keith Davis have been named as a committee of seniors to have charge of the campaign, which will include the circulation of petitions and the creation of sentiment in favor of the auditorium. This committee proposes to explain the school's need to voters wherever possible and to present arguments through the newspapers.

One argument to be used is that the auditorium will be used not only for high school assemblies but also as a place for conventions and public gatherings of various kinds.

The decision to start the campaign for the auditorium bonds was reached upon the decision of residents of the western part of the city to ask for bonds for a new grammar school building in the west end. The propositions would be submitted as separate items, one being for the common school district and the other for the high school district.

In the petitions being prepared by the seniors no amount is fixed as the amount requested for an auditorium.

BOSTON LAWYER IN THREE NEW CHARGES AGAINST BRANDEIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Austin Fox, representing fifty-five Boston attorneys at the Brandeis hearing today, made three new charges, alleging that Brandeis deserted his clients and that he is unreliable.

Fox charged that in 1906 Brandeis acted for a stockholders' committee against the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and within nine months appeared as attorney opposing the stockholders.

Brandeis is alleged to have acted as attorney against the Gillette Safety Razor Company officers, alleging mismanagement. Later he aided, it is alleged, the Gillette concern against former clients.

It is also alleged that Brandeis aided E. H. Harriman to get control of the Illinois Central Railroad from Stuyvesant Fish in the deal causing Roosevelt to call Harriman an "undesirable citizen," while simultaneously attacking the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Fox promised to produce witnesses to prove his allegations.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS WILL MAKE STRONG FIGHT DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

H. McPhee and A. J. Crookshank of Orange County, Geo. A. Knight of San Francisco, and R. N. Bulla of Los Angeles Talked of As Candidates For Delegates to National Convention

Apparently the progressive Republicans do not propose that a delegation of stand patters shall go to the National Republican convention at Chicago—not if they, the progressive Republicans, can help it, and they seem to think they can. Of course they expect the party Progressives to help them, and in that they will probably not be disappointed.

A prominent progressive Republican of Los Angeles was in Orange county today, trying to shape things up, and while he is quoted as saying that he did not represent the state administration, nor the Progressive party organization, he did say that those whom he represented expected the co-operation of the state administration and the Progressive party, in their effort to secure the election of a delegation of progressive Republicans to represent California in the National Republican convention in Chicago next June.

While everybody who does know, or ought to know something about this movement is as mum as an oyster when approached by a newspaper man, it can be positively stated as a fact, that the Los Angeles emissary came here with the names of A. J. Crookshank, Horace McPhee and J. P. Baumgartner, as being probably available candidates for delegates to the National convention. Neither Mr. Crookshank nor Mr. McPhee could be found after it was ascertained that they had been interviewed, and Mr. Baumgartner said:

"While I can't talk to you on this matter, I am not going to suppress the news if you can dig it up. I will say something, however, so far as I am personally concerned, and that is that I am not available as a progressive Republican candidate for delegate to the National convention. In the first place, I would not think of running if I could; in the second place, I am very sure that, upon reconsideration, there would be nobody who would want me to run. For obvious reasons I couldn't be elected. While I have always felt, and still feel, that I am as good a Republican as any man in Orange county, I know that many make a distinction between the progressive Republican who stayed in his party when the split came at Chicago four years ago, and the progressive Republican who allied himself with the new party. I did not take much stock in the new party movement, but I was deeply devoted, as I still am, to progressive principles; and I felt that I must work with other men whose devotion to those principles I could not question, and in whose political judgment I had greater confidence than I have ever had in my own."

Information obtained from various sources indicates that the progressive Republicans are planning strong organization for an effective campaign, and that activities similar to those which came to the surface in Orange county today, are manifesting themselves all over the state, radiating from headquarters, respectively, in Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Francisco.

Strong Statement by McPhee

Since the foregoing was put in type, Horace McPhee has been interviewed. "Yes," he said, "I'm always willing to express myself on important political matters, and to make sure of saying just what I mean, I'll give you a written statement." He did, and here it is:

"I have no desire to be a candidate for delegate to the Republican National convention, but I will certainly do all in my power to aid in electing delegates to that convention who are in favor of re-uniting the Republican party. And surely any sensible man will at once realize that the only hope for the success of that party in November next lies in 'getting together.' The 'stand-pat'—beg pardon—'regular' wing of the party in California seems to be of the opinion that the way to win elections is to continue to vilify and abuse one faction of the party, and, by the way, the majority faction, I do not agree with this view of the matter. The tail cannot wag the dog in matters political or anything else, and the election of Woodrow Wilson in 1912 demonstrated very clearly that the 'stand-pat' element of the Republican party is its tail only."

"The Republican party, in order to do business at the old stand, needs those 4,000,000 votes that were cast for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, and in order to get them, it is necessary, first of all, to stop classing them as tools, traitors and knaves."

"Speaking for myself, I did not vote for Co. Roosevelt, and I deny the right of anyone here or elsewhere to read me out of the Republican party because I believe in a fair deal in politics. I believe, too, that there were as many mistakes, to use a mild term, made by one wing of the Republican party as by the other in the campaign of 1912."

"Here in Orange county we, Republicans, Progressives, Democrats, and unclassified, should all be doing our utmost to put back in power the only political party that has ever shown any disposition to protect our great industries against injurious and illegitimate foreign competition. We should, and unless we are very foolish, we will, send an avowed protectionist to Congress from this district, and work to unite the party of protection and vote for its nominee for President."

LATEST—Little by little the news seeps out. One of the probable progressive Republican candidates for delegate to the National convention is R. N. Bulla of Los Angeles; another is George A. Knight of San Francisco.

WOULD PREVENT MINORS GOING IN POOLROOM

FULLERTON, Feb. 23.—"To the honorable board of trustees of the city of Fullerton, Fullerton, Calif. Gentlemen: Because of the fact that young men under 21 years of age are very susceptible to influences that detract from their proper occupations, and

"Because the pool rooms of the city are not good places for minors to while away their idle time, and

"Because the law of Orange county prohibits minors from frequenting these places, and

"Because the diversity of the laws in the city and county on this matter leads to confusion and frequent violation, and

"Because most 16-year-old boys will have less inclination to falsify their ages to the pool room managers and these same managers will find it hard to excuse their own consciences when they see that the applicant does not really appear to have reached his majority, the board of trustees of the Fullerton Union High School respectfully request that the city ordinance be changed to equal that of the county in restraining the youth of the community from frequenting these places of amusement.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

board of trustees, three actions resulted which may make the city ordinance governing pool rooms similar to the county ordinance. The petition is said to have grown out of the recent discovery by high school authorities that some of the students of the institution were spending some of their time, before going home in the afternoon after school, in the pool rooms, to which some of them gained admittance by misrepresenting their ages.

Of the three actions which resulted, E. J. Marks, city attorney, was requested to compare the city and county ordinances; the president of the board of trustees is to investigate and find out how many students there are in the high school under the age of 18 and lastly the police committee is to see that the present pool room ordinance, governing the admission of youths under the age designated by ordinance, is enforced.

Roller Skating
Roller skating on Spadra avenue, either on the sidewalks or in the streets, between Wilshire avenue and the Santa Fe tracks, is to be tabooed. First reading of an ordinance making the offense a misdemeanor, punishable either by $25 fine or twelve and one-half days imprisonment, passed the board. City Attorney Marks pointed out that it is not possible to fine or imprison a minor, but that it is possible to place a minor under the custody of a probation officer. The ordinance is to become effective after publication and second reading.

NOT TO MAKE SCRAP OF 'CONSTITUTION'

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—Commandant Rush of the Charlestown Navy Yard has put at rest all worry over the fate of the "Constitution," the gallant old frigate which lies at anchor there. In an interview with the United Press, Captain Rush said he was greatly surprised to have been quoted as saying that "Old Ironsides" must be moved to make room for other and more modern vessels. "In my opinion," said the commandant, "the 'Constitution' comes first. All other ships here must take second place. I regard her as symbolic of the constitution of the United States and I would as soon destroy one as the other. So long as she lasts, which, with adequate repairs should be forever, Old Ironsides shall have her place in the yard. I understand I have been quoted as saying we needed the space now occupied in the yard by the frigate, but this is absolutely untrue. The 'Constitution' rides at anchor at the safest spot in the Charlestown yard, protected against fire in every way. She is within a few hundred feet of the place where she was launched over 100 years ago, and each year over 80,000 visitors go aboard and roam up and down the aged hulk, a reminder of the days when the United States swept all before her on the seas.

U. S. SUITS CAUSE OF CRUDE OIL DECREASE? ABSURD, SAYS EXPERT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—That the statement of K. R. Kingsbury, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company, to the effect that government suits have been largely responsible for decreasing the production of crude oil in California last year is an "absolute absurdity," was declared yesterday evening by Howard M. Payne, receiver for the United States government in the suits now pending against the California oil companies. Payne added that instead of the present price of 18 cents per gallon for gasoline, which is reported to be going higher, the Standard Oil Company can at present time afford to sell gasoline for 15 cents a gallon at a big profit.

"The Standard Oil Company sets the price of gasoline, and the other companies fall in," said Payne. "I expect to see the price go to 25 cents a gallon, and to stick at about that figure."

Kingsbury, in explaining the high price of gasoline, said that it was due to an increased demand coupled with a decreased production of 14,000,000 barrels of oil in California last year. He blamed this decrease in considerable measure on government suits against operators on unpatented lands.

INOCULATION OF BEANS URGED BY EXPERT

Following is a copy of a letter written by C. F. Pennewell to a friend in Los Angeles. Pennewell is an expert on plant inoculation. The letter is made public here by J. M. Van Dien, local agent for the J. M. Waterman Selling Agency of Oxnard, dealers in beans.

"It is sometimes stated that inoculation of lima beans with soil bacteria is absolutely unnecessary. Having given to this subject many years of study and experimental work both in laboratory and field, I feel qualified to give an opinion based upon results obtained in my field trials and I find from my reading that my opinion is backed by the very highest authorities.

"It is true that when beans, peas and clovers have been grown for successive seasons the particular bacteria allied to the crop are left in the soil and will benefit succeeding crops of the same kind, but it is also true that they exist in colonies and are not evenly distributed through the soil, so that the success of the succeeding crop depends largely upon the dropping of the seed into those places where the bacteria are numerous. The inoculation of the seed before planting, which is neither more nor less than fastening to each seed in countless millions the particular bacteria to which the seed is allied, gives an absolute assurance that the bacteria will be 'Johnny on the spot' when germination takes place and the tender rootlets appear. Again the addition of new strains of bacteria to those which have lived and grown in the same soil for many seasons is most beneficial.

"My statements are fully borne out by the bulletins of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, than whom there can be no better authority, as their reports are not theoretical but are based on actual experiment in the field as well as in the laboratory. Bulletin No. 100, part VIII, page 1, states:

"The native bacteria were able to produce nodules in considerable numbers and to be of moderate benefit to the plants. The pure cultures of virile bacteria under similar conditions, however, caused more than double the increase they may be ascribed to the native bacteria."

"If there were not something to this seed inoculation, why should the Bureau of Plant Industry publish broadcast such statements as the following, which I quote from its Bulletin No. 296:

"The importance of using selected seed for all crops has been so amply demonstrated that no argument in favor of the practice is needed. It is the very foundation of progress in plant culture. Soil bacteria are no exception to the rule, and pure bred bacteria for specific work are as clearly an economic necessity as pure bred cattle or pure bred sugar beets."

"In the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station Circular No. 5, I find the following: 'By inducing an earlier and more abundant development of nodules, inoculation may be profitable even in soils which contain the proper bacteria in limited numbers. There is no reasonable doubt as to the benefit to legumes of the proper nodule bacteria.'

"It has been suggested that the same results which follow inoculation with commercial pure cultures of bacteria may be obtained at but little expense through distribution of soil from a field where like crops are growing or by what is known as the 'soil suspension method' out Professor Kellerman of the Department of Plant Industry, probably the best posted man in this country, says in his latest circular that 'transferring field soil any considerable distance is expensive and subject to the danger of introducing troublesome weeds, insects and plant diseases.'

"The New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 227 states, 'In order to eliminate these dangers (those attending inoculation with old legume earth) bacteriologists have suggested the use of pure cultures for the inoculation of the soil.'

"The late Professor Hilgard of the University of California in his book on Soils at page 155 says, 'It is very important that bacilli should be present in the earliest stages of the growth of the seedlings, otherwise the latter will undergo a longer or shorter period of starvation, unless the soil contains or is furnished with a sufficiency of nitrogen to supply their immediate needs.

"I am for seed inoculation; for the application of bacteria to the seed before planting; so that the bacteria may be present in the earliest stages of the growth of the seedlings and I am strong for inoculation with the best pure culture obtainable so that my fields will not be contaminated with weeds, fungus, insects and plant diseases."

OLD HOME SINGERS IN LYCEUM NUMBER

Lyceum season ticket holders may secure reserved seats for the "Old Home Singers" tomorrow. Single admission tickets will go on sale Saturday at Rowley's drug store.

The number is one of the course given under the high school auspices.

OLD HOME SINGERS.
The Old Home Singers, who are to fill a big Lyceum season this year, make a specialty in their programs of carrying their audiences back to childhood scenes and recollections.

Of the five young artists who comprise this company each is a soloist of pleasing quality, capable of singing the heart songs. They form a mixed quartet, capable of superb ensemble work, as is evidenced by their artistic rendering of the quartet from "Rigoletto."

That they meet the requirements of the program perfectly is shown in the many reports already received from committees.

At the opening of the program the five young people have just returned from a musical where a song composed by one of the young men has proved to be the hit of the season.

Following the congratulations, a discussion starts regarding the music of today. By way of illustration they sing selections from grand opera, oratorio music, sentimental ballads, rag time, topical songs, novelty songs—the different types which are now sung.

These young artists then agree that the most beautiful and best loved of all are the heart songs, which are endeared to us through past association. They plan an evening of the old songs.

The men appear in the costume of 1870 and in a very mirth provoking fashion are trying to accustom themselves to the clothes of their grandfathers. The girls have been rummaging in the attic and enter beautifully in the quaint dresses of that time, "with sixty yards of lace on the ruffles," as grandmother had said.

The costuming and staging carry us, in fancy, back to the days of long ago. The serious songs, the sentimental, the humorous, the songs we nearly have forgotten, the songs mother used to sing, all come back to give us a variety of program seldom heard today.

Among those which may be named as typical are "Sweet Genevieve," "The Old Oaken Bucket," "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Ben Bolt," "Pop Goes the Weasel," "Captain Jinks" and many songs sung with games such as "Old Dan Tucker."

SPLendid SHOWING IS MADE BY ORANGES IN ANNUAL SHOW TESTS

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 23.—How well the 1916 California orange crop measures in quality as required by the pure food laws and the eight to one standard was shown yesterday in the annual chemical tests at the Sixth National Orange Show conducted to establish the relationship of the soluble solids to acids in the fruit exhibited. Lindsay and Colton fruit showed up with a ratio of 12.5 to 1, which is regarded as a very high standing. Colton drew first honors in the competition at the tossing of a coin. Much of the Colton fruit is from the groves purchased by the California-Portland Cement Company two years ago to settle the suits brought by the then owners for damages as a result of the alleged dust injury to the fruit.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 23.—Although only twelve miles apart, St. Paul and Minneapolis have separate weather bureaus. The original single station, which Uncle Sam said could efficiently handle weather conditions in both cities, was in St. Paul. People in Minneapolis constantly taunted the St. Paul station with sensing weather reports destructive to their bazars, fetes and civic turnouts. Minneapolis people just wouldn't accept weather sent them from St. Paul, so Uncle Sam gave in and established another station in Minneapolis.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE CROP TO DOUBLE IN 10 YEARS, SAYS EXPERT

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 23.—The California orange crop will double in the next ten years, the lemon crop in the next five. The immediate problem facing the California citrus growers is not one of salesmanship, but of creating consumers' demand. With a national population of 100,000,000, the demand should be almost limitless, but the increase of 2 per cent annually in population is not enough to care for the increase in production of fruit.

These were some of the statements made to the Riverside growers by G. Harold Powell, manager of the California Fruit Exchange, in an address to the Present Day Club. The output of the navy general board, and former commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, adversely criticised the administration's naval program.

Representative Gardner introduced in the House a land defense bill calling for a standing army of 281,000, which he said was prepared by the army war college. In a statement accompanying the bill he vigorously attacked the tentative measure prepared by the House Military Affairs Committee. He asserted that the committee's plans were inadequate and would not provide the necessary forces to meet a real emergency.

WEEK OF MARCH 27 IS L.A. 'DRESS-UP' WEEK

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—Inspired by the success of "dress up week" last fall and by its vivifying effect on the city as a whole, prominent clothiers, haberdashers, hatters, shoe men and department store merchants sent representatives Monday to a conference at Christy's, where tentative plans were formed for a spring rejuvena-

The week of March 2 has been chosen by the leading merchants of the country as "dress-up week." Los Angeles, the originator of the "dress-

The Fashion Show, carnival of femigallantry, take precedence on March

2. It being deemed certain that milady

MORE RAIN WILL INCREASE BEAN
ACREAGE HERE

—W. C. JEROME.

Fewer Beets Will Be Planted
Unless Dry Weather Prevails In March

Bean acreage in Orange county this season will be as great as it was last year and if there is more rain during the next two or three weeks, the acreage will be increased by two or three thousand acres, according to County Auditor W. C. Jerome, well known San Joaquin grower.

The lands that were flooded during the recent storms have been soaked to such an extent as to make doubtful the advisability of planting beets.
The land still is so wet that the ranchers so far have been unable to get on to their property to remove the roots, stumps and other debris that collected during the floods.

According to Jerome, another rain during March will prevent the planting of beets. Beans will then take the place of beets and the bean acreage in the county will be greatly increased.

Provided, however, that March is a fairly dry month and the beet lands dry out the beet men will be enabled to get in their crops.

On the San Joaquin ranch the bean men are busy mulching the soil. The mulch is a harrowing, "cycloping" and "chiseling," preparing their lands with a blanket of finely powdered earth.

Bean planting will begin about
May 1.

238,627 MEASURES, WEIGHTS CONDEMNED
IN STATE IN 1915

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—Out of a total of 1,586,860 weighing and measuring devices inspected in this state during 1914, no less than 238,627 were condemned and 54,598 were found to be "out of order" and repaired.

This startling statement, which indicates that there has been a remarkable amount of "short weighing" in California, was made by Charles G. Johnson, superintendent of the California State Department of Weights and Measures, who is at the Hotel Alexandria.

The visitor, who had come here from Sacramento to confer with local berry men and berry box manufacturers relative to the adoption of uniform berry boxes, declined to draw any inferences from his statistics. "We made only 186 prosecutions," he stated, "for it is our endeavor to educate and build up rather than to convict offenders, who very frequently err unconsciously."

Johnson's visit is due to a request from the berry growers of Northern California, about 88 per cent of those in the state, and a similar request from those in this section, that berry boxes be standardized. This will probably be accomplished in a short time, according to the official.

TITLED FRENCH WOMAN
IN L. A. GETS SKETCHES
MADE BY BOY AT FRONT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—Jacques Aroles, a 19-year-old French soldier boy, lay in a trench in Argonne a few weeks ago and sketched. Occasionally a shower of shrapnel would patter around him; and now and then a shell would burst nearby. But Jacques only smiled—and sketched on!

Yesterday those same little sketches reached the Comtesse Constance H. de Caen of Paris, France, at the Rosslyn Hotel.

"They are cartoons of the Germans!" exclaimed the charming little visitor. "Think of it! That boy, in the shadow of death, spent his time cartooning the men he was fighting! I think they are very clever, too, don't you? What that one lad did is only typical of the men of all the armies—
German, French, English—all of them.
All are brave. All can laugh in the teeth of danger. All can fight—and play, too!"

The Comtesse, who is recuperating from a recent illness, is here for an indefinite stay.

MAY FORCE OUT 3326
SALOONS DOING 100 MILLION BUSINESS

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—Three thousand, three hundred and twenty-six saloons in Michigan will be forced out of business if the state-wide prohibition amendment is passed at the general election November 7. Of these, about 40 per cent are located in Detroit. The value of the saloon interests in the state has been roughly estimated at $100,000,000. Already nearly 42 per cent of the entire population of the state is in dry territory, through the operation of the county local option law. Local option and restrictions imposed by the Warner-Crampton law, have caused 2,934 saloons in Michigan to suspend business during the last eight years.

HIGH GAS PRICE UNDER FEDERAL INVESTIGATION

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—Federal investigation of the California oil industry, aimed to discover whether the steady boosting of gasoline prices by the Standard Oil Company and independent concerns is justified by market conditions or is done for the purpose of "milking" the public, is pursued by the government, according to a statement by United States District Attorney Albert Schoonover of Los Angeles.

While the government probe is to be country-wide, the principal activities of the federal agents will be in this city and other large cities near the great oil-producing centers.

It is probable that a commission of oil experts will be appointed by the Department of Justice to delve into the situation with a view of gathering facts and figures upon which to base any legal proceedings that may be instituted, should such a step be found advisable.

In many parts of Southern California the price of gasoline has been jumped to 18 1/2 cents a gallon, which is the highest figure the commodity has reached since last September, in contrast with the price then of 11 cents a gallon. Consumers in San Diego, Santa Ana and many other communities are now paying this top-notch price, and they are complaining bitterly.

FLY PAPER INVENTOR
SOLD SECRET TO THUM WHO MADE MILLIONS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 23.—The man who introduced sticky fly paper into the United States runs a restaurant in Portland and uses screen doors and electric fans to keep the flies away.

His name is Henry Scheuffler. He learned to make sticky fly paper in Stuttgart, Germany, then came to America and started a bakery at Grand Rapids, Mich. He made a little of the fly paper to use in his windows.
One day another German named Thum gave Scheuffler a dollar to learn how to make the sticky stuff. Thum patented it and started a factory. The big corporation of Thum Brothers is the result. Scheuffler spent his dollar and came west.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Scores and scores of couples who obtain marriage licenses during the year

Pugh's allegation here today. Pugh wants the Legislature to pass a law, compelling the return of "unused" marriage licenses, to straighten out his records.

in honor of the alumni day celebration.
He stated that he found the West was as fully enthusiastic for military preparedness as the East is. Mr. Hibben praised the strength of the state col-

NOTIFY WITNESSES
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—Notification to 150 prospective witnesses for the state in the trial of David Caplan, alleged accomplice of M. A. Schmidt and the McNamara in the destruction of property by dynamite, were mailed yesterday by E. J. Brennan, chief investigator of the district attorney's office. Caplan is accused of murder in connection with the destruction of a newspaper building October 1, 1910.
Although the trial is scheduled to begin March 14, two weeks will be al-

PROSPERITY WAVE IS ROLLING TOWARD L. A.
IS WORD OF EXPERT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—After a month's survey of business conditions throughout the East which included conferences with representative manufacturers and merchants from various sections of the country, G. A.
Brock, chairman of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, returned yesterday, full of enthusiasm as to what the future holds.
He said last night:

"That there is a tidal wave of general prosperity rolling rapidly and directly toward Los Angeles, already the most prosperous center on the Pacific Coast, is an unquestioned fact."

"I find a feeling of enthusiasm and confidence extending all along the line, from the laborer to the middle classes, to the merchants and manufacturers and to the capitalists. Everything that has been lacking to make business good during the past few years is now present. There is no unemployed problem throughout the country; manufacturers are running to capacity in most lines, and the retail dealers report that the public is beginning to spend money freely."

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 23.—German newspapers print dispatches from Italy stating that a Japanese fleet has arrived safely in the Mediterranean Sea, together with a great number of aircraft.

Two Japanese steamships have been torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean, the passenger steamship Yasaka Maru and the freighter Ken-koku Maru.
On January 3 announcement was made at Tokyo by the Jiji Shimpo that a squadron of Japanese warships was to be dispatched to the Suez Canal, presumably for the purpose of protecting Japanese shipping. The armored cruisers Kasuga, Tokiwa and Chioze were mentioned as having been assigned to this service.

CHILDREN VS. PIGS

"You couldn't fix an age limit for child labor any more than you could tell when a pig becomes a hog!"

The quotation is from one of the arguments made by the opponents of the federal child labor bill, known as the Keating bill, which has been passed by the lower house of Congress and which now awaits the action of the Senate; and in caustic comment thereon the San Luis Obispo Telegram says:

"This detestable child-pig-hog comparison seems likely to produce a result opposite from the one intended.

"Even a powerful combination of manufacturers and politicians cannot accomplish very much when they work against nature.

"Nature implants instincts for the protection of the young of every species for various periods of time, according to their place in the scale of animal development.

"The lower orders of backboned animals, like the reptiles, leave their eggs to hatch in the sand and their young to shift for themselves. Birds care for their young a few weeks until they are able to fly. Pigs and other four-footed animals feed their offspring a few months, until they can feed themselves. Man, highest in the scale, provides food, shelter and clothing for his children through several years of infancy and childhood.

"Civilized nations take care of their children longer than savages do. And the higher the type of man in any community, the more time he gives to the raising and educating of his sons and daughters.

When poverty limits a man's opportunity to do these things, the highly civilized men of his community step in and do them for him.

"The Keating bill is an effort along this line.

"It is opposed only by men morally so low that they are willing to rob childhood of its rights and privileges, men so ignorant, or mentally inferior, that they expect a comparison of pigs with children to carry weight!

"Evidently the best thing for the Keating bill is to let its opponents keep right on talking."

ROADSIDE ADVERTISING

About this time of year many merchants used to be organizing campaigns for decorating (?) the road-sides for many miles around with their advertising. As soon as the spring mud had dried out they had their teams and men out erecting and painting staring signboards along the country highways.

Very much less of this sort of work will be done the coming spring. In many localities it has stopped altogether. The merchants found out that it did not have advertising value, and they were spending their good money for nothing.

One objection to this outdoor advertising was that it soon became defaced and shabby. Even a neatly painted sign, if exposed to rain and dust, would look ancient in a single season. It would convey an appearance of dinginess that was left-handed advertising for the store that erected it. Boys would use it as a target, and jokers would take paint and alter words with humorous intent.

The most serious objection to these signs was the public animosity that they created. In many states legislation has been enacted against them. In others various associations have taken the matter up, and have made it a business to wreck roadside signs, confident that they were within their legal rights.

The simple fact is that the people don't want their pretty country roads defaced by advertising. When they go outside of the towns they like to see country scenes and open air life, and want to forget about business. The signboard is a reminder of commercialism. If erected on a man's place of business, and if neatly done, it would not be objectionable. Placed on the highway, it offends by being out of place, and it does not help to sell goods.

Hail to the "Seal Beach Post!" the latest addition to Orange County's large number of newspapers. The editor says his paper "will be Independent and Progressive in politics, holding with no clique or gang; all will be treated alike." Just what he means by capitalizing Independent and Progressive, we do not know. The Post's make-up is very neat, and it is well printed, having its own plant. Also it is newsy. Here's our hand, Editor and Publisher R. F. Bowers. May you live long and prosper.

Hart Schaffner & Marx
John B. Stetson Co.
Dutchess Mfg. Co.
Holeproof Hosiery Co.

Wilson Brothers

Where the small fry manufacturer has to buy from "hand to mouth," these large firms have the capacity to buy an output large enough for them to "get in early" and protect their trade against the upward trend of prices.

Our early buying and position to get the best that these people have will work to your advantage. The price of your spring suit, hat, shirts, union suits, hosiery, neckwear will be no higher—the quality will be as good and the color just as fast as in past seasons.

We want your trade on the absolute merit of our real merchandise at prices as low as you can afford to pay.

Single Tracking the Mind

By Will H. Fischer

Once there was a hard-drinking man who, having been divorced by three disgusted wives, concluded that marriage should be abolished.

This idea became fixed, so that he could think of nothing else.

One day he met a man who could think of nothing but the necessity for the abolishment of whiskey.

"Are you," asked the latter, "opposed to the great evil?"

"Down with it is my motto," replied the toper.

They parted, believing each other well met and of fine discrimination.

No matter what the thought, it doesn't justify one in single-tracking his mind.

He who devotes himself long enough to a hobby will find his mind "setting" around it; and in setting it will shrink.

The normal mind is capable of thinking many thoughts, entertaining many ideas. To be healthy it must be kept in use. It must have a variety of contacts.

When its operations are restricted to one thought, offended nature gets even by gradually withdrawing its surplus power and energy.

The mind which has shrunk to a .22 caliber idea has lost the power to register any but .22 caliber impressions and impulses. It becomes intolerant and hostile to all it cannot digest.

A man with a shrunken mind, like an old-fashioned auto, shoots on one cylinder and stops at the foot of the first hill.

He cannot reach the summits, or even the higher levels of thought, from which men of broader, more varied sympathies, acquire the clearer view of life.

* * *

Have you ever toiled up a mountain on a fair day, and then looked down. Do you recall the new perception that came to you, of the lowlands—the relation of forest to stream, stream to plain, plain to village, and of the village to the distant city? Do you remember what a revelation it was? The new knowledge that came to you?

You had lived in the valley, perhaps, for a long time; but you had been too close to it to really know it.

So it is with our hobbies, prejudices and fixed opinions. We live too close to them. They wall us about and imprison us. We may fret a little at their restraint; but we are lazy and languid, and so at last those walls become the limits of our mental world.

We must toil with new thoughts, scale new experiences and reach out for new ideas and sympathies if we expect ever to ascend the mountain of knowledge to gain the clearer view of the valley of life and to glimpse, perchance, far, far across the shimmering sands of the desert of doubt, the shining spires that rise to mark for us the templed city of truth.

The Political Watchtower

Here it is the 23rd day of February and not a single political contest sprung up among us.

We are to elect an assemblyman and two supervisors, and up to the present the three men who now hold those positions are the only persons who are recognized as candidates.

In February of 1914 the woods were full of candidates for nominations for the large aggregation of offices to be filled in the fall of that year; there was many a lusty race run to the finish. Some of these races began a year in advance of election time, and some of them were going it hammer and tongs by the first of January.

Peace and quiet reigns in local politics right now. There is an intense interest in what will happen at the national conventions in June, and a man who is fonder of standing on the street corner and discussing affairs of the nation than he is of chopping wood, or mowing the lawn can get up an argument in no time on national possibilities. That same arguer might try all day and not start much on the three political races that are close at hand.

Now there is Joe C. Burke, assemblyman and lawyer. Burke is a good deal better known than he was two years ago when he went forth and seized the Republican nomination for legislator. He was an active member of the legislature, and he came back and looked the people in the face and told them what he had done and why he had done it. He is looking them in the face still, and is telling them that if they are willing he is willing to go back to Sacramento in January, 1917. He said something to that effect three or four months ago, and up to the present no one has jumped into the ring to say him nay or nit or not so, my Joe.

The Watchman might surmise that it would be a terrible shock to Joe to have to jog along all by himself without a struggle. If there is anything an Irishman or the direct descendant of an Irishman likes it is keen competition. That is tradition as old as the Green Isle itself. Of course, it is possible that Joe is not of Irish descent. It is possible that he would not relish a scrap. We say it is possible. However, those who have slid through an election without opposition say it is a glorious exhilaration.

And there is H. E. Smith of Santa Ana, who began being a supervisor of Orange county on Jan. 1, 1903. That was some several years ago. It is a matter of history that about every two years some person has gone forth with the enthusiastic intention of retiring Smith to private life. It is also a matter of history that every such afore-said enthusiastic individual who attempted to spill the Smith beans failed to accomplish the spill. Smith has been supervisor of the first district for thirteen years, one month and twenty-three days, and if the dust that the Watchman spies is any criterion Smith is going to be a candidate again. In fact, the report is that he is considering seeking the nomination. The truth of the matter is, Smith probably expects to run again. Shucks! Why not be plain about it. Smith is a candidate for re-election, and what is more he says so. He is running right now; has been running right along ever since his last re-election.

He is running alone. Undoubtedly he would enjoy running alone right up to the day of the November election.

Also there is William Schumacher of Buena Park. It is "Bill" for short. He is now motoring along in his fourth year of service on the county board. He came off of his farm four years ago as a candidate upon whom various factions of the third supervisorial district might unite. Enough of them did do the uniting to put him across. True.

Bill got by with only a frying pan full of votes to spare; true again, he had to go into court to resist the claims of another to the honors; true also, he won at the polls and likewise in the court room. Bill has made a raft of friends during his term of office, and a lot of those who backed him four years ago say he is a lot harder to beat now than he was then. So far not a single candidate has come out against him. So far the Watchman has heard not even the faintest whisper of a name that may be on the ballot against him.

Can it be possible that the fighting third is not going to have a fight? Can it be possible that the district that has seen many a political battle through from start to finish is going to make 1916 a year of peace and quiet? Though Europe wars and President Wilson sends messages to the Kaiser; though preparedness splits Congress, and Sheriff Jackson pours booze into the sewer; though Justice Cox mandates for a raise in salary; though all these things and a few other things may be talked about in the newspapers, can it be that the third supervisorial district is going to fail in furnishing copy for the Political Watchtower?

If there aren't going to be any political races, the Towerman is going to close the Tower and take a vacation.

Since there is nothing at home to get excited over, we might cast a gaze over toward Riverside and see if we can find out who they are going to let us vote upon for state senator. It seems to be taken for granted in Riverside and Orange counties that the next state senator is to be a Riverside county man. Imperial is in the district, but evidently Imperial will not have a turn coming for some years yet.

But Riverside is not saying much about State senator. Doubtless when the time comes that he will be a candidate enough. But no Orange county man need apply. At least, if he did the Riverside would say he had an awful nerve to do it.

The congressional situation is taking a season of much needed rest. A few weeks ago the papers were doing a whirlwind business is possible and probable candidates for congress. The fun especially thrived at San Diego, where the San Diego Union made a howl that the successor to Congressman Kettner would be a San Diegoan, whether the rest of the district liked it or not.

Eight weeks ago the three recognized features in the situation were that Congressman Kettner, Democrat, would not run again; that State Senator Lyman M. King of Redlands was in the saddle riding hard for the Republican nomination; that San Diego was sparring to get a San Diego man for congressman, regardless of his political complexion. These same three features maintain their recognized standing, and no additional features of equal consequence have arisen.

All the incorporated cities of Orange county excepting Santa Ana are having elections in prospect. The events are set by state law for April 19 this year. Each city of the sixth class is to elect some trustees a clerk and a treasurer.

Again, the Mexicans
Editor Register: Anyone in Santa Ana wishing to undertake real home missionary work could possibly find no greater opportunity or one of greater importance than the one offered in the homes of most of our Mexican population.

Until Santa Ana awakens again to the need of a school peculiarly arranged and conducted, especially suited to their needs, this is the easiest and surest way of helping these people.

A few unselfish, Spanish-speaking Christians willing to sacrifice one or two afternoons each week could soon bring enlightenment and knowledge into these darkened homes, thus relieving the one dead weight that hangs upon the shoulders of our fair city. Santa Ana is a city too beautiful, too refined, too artistic, too Christian, to allow illiteracy to breed and flourish long within her gates.

The fact that at least 95 per cent of our Mexican children never get beyond the sixth grade in school is evidence enough that home education and training is a necessity.

Mrs. J. E. Gowen Hostess Yesterday, Jolly Plans For Diversion Amusing

The plans for the diversion of her guests made by Mrs. J. E. Gowen were a refreshing change from the usual run of afternoon party affairs, and were cleverly arranged, so that the time flew away so fast that the afternoon shadows were far advanced before the guests departed.

Mrs. Gowen used spicy pink carnations and lovely pink roses, artistically arranged, to greet her guests, who upon their arrival were given numbers which corresponded to those on various baskets later passed. One lady received a basket of needles, another one of thread, others receptacles of various kinds of material, others laces and ribbons and all told to make articles for a bazaar, after purchasing materials at exorbitant prices with beans, the amount allotted each being $10, represented with limas, pink and navy beans. After the game was made they were displayed and Mrs. C. H. Perkins and Mrs. Anna Gale, who had acted as superintendents to see that the work was honestly done, decided that Miss Bessie Wood was entitled to first prize, a pair of scissors, for the best workmanship and Mrs. C. E. French the consolation, a cigar (fan). During the time that busy fingers flew, Mrs. John Clarkson gave the appropriate reading of "The Song of the Shirt," by Thomas Hood and responded with the little Scotch piece, "The Huh," which was one of the delightful features of the happy afternoon.

Then the ladies were sent to the dining room, where they found a sign upon the door which read "Annual Clearance Sale." Tables were found holding china, glass and linen, others with ruffles and fluting (lettuce) odds and ends, (salad) mixtures (dressing) plain and fancy goods (sandwiches) soaked in water, (tea), closing with a grand clean up sale (finger bowls).

Before leaving the scene of the sale, there was a snap in millinery and the ladies were soon adorned with the latest in spring bonnets in the gayest of colors.

When return was made to the library, the articles fashioned by the seamstresses were auctioned off cleverly by Mrs. John Clarkson. The bids were extravagant and competition was hot and heavy. When the stock was exhausted, Mrs. W. L. Deimling was awarded a trick match box for having the most money left and Mrs. E. M. Nealley a tiny gun in the shape of a fan for having none at all.

Those who enjoyed this delightful out of the ordinary affair were Meses: C. H. Perkins, Anna Hale, George Calderston, E. M. Nealley, C. E. French, John Clarkson, Louise Seaborn, Russell Scott, W. L. Deimling, W. E. Winslow, E. B. Burns, Misses Ethel French, Mary Taylor and Bessie Wood.

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter today than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feelings make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women.

If your children catch colds easily, are tired when rising, lack healthy color, or find studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion for one month to enrich their blood and restore the body-forces to healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine," simply a highly concentrated oil-fool, without alcohol or harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood; it benefits lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

E. S. Morrow Carried Out a Pleasant Birthday Celebration For His Wife

Mrs. E. S. Morrow celebrates her natal day at the same time as the father of his country and yesterday she decided to have a few of her neighbors in to play bridge in the afternoon. Mr. Morrow also had not forgotten the occasion and with the assistance of some friends planned a surprise for his wife in the evening. In the afternoon the prizes were won by Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Shafer.

Mrs. Morrow had an engagement which kept her away from home until eight o'clock and upon her return she found the house brilliantly lighted and a number of her friends assembled to greet her. The home was bright with flowers arranged by Mrs. Morrow for the afternoon.

The diversion for the evening was progressive whist and the first prizes were taken by Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, the consolation going to Mrs. R. Shafer.

Following the closely contested games, a delicious collation was served on the small tables. Mrs. Morrow was presented with some dainty china by her friends, Mr. Shafer giving the gift with some pleasant words of congratulations for Mrs. Morrow.

The guests included Messrs. and Meses: R. R. Shafer, E. S. Gilbert, R. E. Whitted, H. T. Duckett, H. H. Dale, C. M. Jordan and J. Fred Parsons.

For Mrs. Cotant's Birthday

Mrs. P. M. Matthews of East Fourth street was hostess at an informal dinner yesterday at 4:30 in honor of the birthday of her niece, Mrs. C. L. Cotant, covers being laid for ten. In keeping with the season, the central motif was a Jerusalem cherry tree, whose reflection was caught in a large mirror. The places were marked with tiny hatchets bearing the place designation.

At the conclusion of the delicious five-course meal, a lovely birthday cake was taken in, together with numerous pretty packages containing gifts for Mrs. Cotant. The time was pleasantly spent with conversation.

Dinner at Intermediate

Section No. 9 of Intermediate had a merry time yesterday at noon, when pupils with their class teacher, Miss Luvicy Carter, and the grade mother, Mrs. A. N. Cox, and Mr. Cox, took dinner at the new cafeteria.

Honoring Washington's birthday, the table was decorated with red and white carnations and blue and white streamers, the ribbons extending from patriotic place cards adorned with the stars and stripes to the center of the table, where "josh" presents were drawn by all.

Following the substantial part of the meal, delicious pineapple ice made by some of the pupils was enjoyed.

GETS BOOK, NO MONEY; A SAD EXPRESSION ON JAP'S FACE DEEPENED

When Y. Kubo, Japanese, lost a bankbook with $270 in currency in it Saturday noon his face assumed a sad expression. When search failed to locate bankbook and money, the sad expression assumed permanence. Today the sadness developed into the deepest gloom, for the bankbook has been found without the money. The property was lost on East Fourth street. The bankbook was found among nursery stock in the county nursery at the corner of Vance and Poinsettia streets where it had been tossed by some one passing along Poinsettia street. Who ever picked up Kubo's bankbook and money evidently has no intention of returning the money.

REV. RAYMOND TO FACE 65 MORE CHARGES IN LONG PULPIT BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—After nearly sixteen months of violent controversy which has raged through ecclesiastical and civil courts and attracted countrywide attention, the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, Philadelphia's militant clergyman, today is still preaching in St. John's Episcopal church, despite the efforts of Bishop Rhinelander and the Protestant Episcopal church to remove him. He has been officially suspended from the ministry for one year, but continues to defy and attack the bishop.

The militant rector, who is 46 and in 1912 stumped Pennsylvania for Colonel Roosevelt, will again appear before Chancellor Budd some time this month to answer sixty-five new charges in a new church court presentment. Among the charges are: "Conduct unbecoming a clergyman, violation of ordination vows, criminal libel and testifying under oath" at his last trial, which is considered immoral under the practices established in the diocesan court.

The controversy gained national in-

NEW HERBAL BALM MAKES LIFE WORTH WHILE FOR SKIN SUFFERERS

One will have to admit the fact that the aborigines were wonderfully successful in keeping down skin diseases contagious and otherwise, in their tribe. A study of the skin diseases among the Arapahoes by Dodge shows that the tribe used a balsam obtained from the trees in that vicinity or brought to them from the coast Indians, which produced wonderful results in what is known as scabies or itch and also weeping eczema. DEXMA has this ingredient in it and its results have been wonderful.

Try this wonderful new herbal skin balm. Apply DEXMA to Eczema; to old running sores; to leg ulcers; to ringworm, ticks, to all blennies and eruptions of the skin. It purifies and heals. No skin disease can live where DEXMA is used.

NEWS BUDGET FROM TALBERT

TALBERT, Feb. 22.—Beets that were planted before the flood and were not washed away, are looking fine.

John Pope has begun plowing his ranch preparatory to replanting beets. The Newport dredger is being used at the lower end of the Talbert drainage ditches. About fifty men are employed in cleaning the ditches.

The break in the Santa Ana river at the Rice place has been very difficult to fix, the bed of the river at that point being higher than the surrounding country. About 1000 sacks were placed there Monday but they were washed away immediately.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Miss Hazel Brady motored to Los Angeles Monday, going by way of Long Beach, where they visited Mrs. Talbert's sister. Miss Brady visited her mother and friends while in the city.

Mrs. Chas. Smith is about again after quite a long siege of the grip.

Rev. Andrews, the junior Methodist preacher for this place, filled his appointment Sunday for the first time since the floods. He was highly pleased with the prosperous condition of the church and with the new piano.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert entertained Saturday and Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brady and children from Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pettit of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Manley have moved to Huntington Beach. The residents here are loath to lose them, but they will be welcomed by many friends in their new home. They will attend Sunday school and church here as has been their custom.

Rev. R. P. Howell, the presiding elder for the Los Angeles District Methodist church, will hold quarterly conference at the local Methodist church next Sunday morning following the 11 o'clock service, at which Rev. Howell will preach. A cordial invitation has been extended to all to worship with the Methodists Sunday and at all times.

Gus Jones, a former resident of this vicinity with his family are moving back from Capistrano where they have resided for the past few months. Evidently, Mr. Jones thinks there is no place like home, and that is Talbert. The Japanese association met Sunday and voted to give each food supplier among the Japanese a kit of provisions. About 100 were assisted in this way.

Joe Parsons attended the golf tournament at the Country Club on Tuesday. Mr. Parsons is a golf enthusiast. Talbert has several new residents. The latest addition to the community are Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Warren of Missouri. Mr. Gill also contemplates making this his home.

S. E. Talbert has attached four Fresno scrapers to his caterpillar engine and is proceeding to level his ranch.

HEROES' MEDAL STOCK KEPT BY UNCLE SAM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The State Department spends about $20 a year for watches, medals and other testimonials it gives to foreigners who save the lives of Americans at sea.

If the rescuer is a common seaman who accomplishes the rescue through his own initiative and individual heroism, he is presented with a gold medal containing $20 worth of gold and inscribed with his name.

The presentation inscription reads: "From the President of the United States." If an officer of a ship figures in the rescue he gets a handsome gold watch and chain or a pair of the finest binoculars manufactured.

A supply of medals, watches, chains and binoculars always is kept on hand in the office of the chief clerk of the State Department.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 22.—A. P. Rumsey, chief commissioner of the Lake Carriers' Association, is looking for his dog Perry again. Rumsey says his dog is the champion lost canine of the United States. "Perry has been lost 168 times in fourteen years," said Rumsey today. "It has cost me an average of $500 a year to get him back."

RIPARIAN RIGHTS URGED ENDED AT BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—The unanimous adoption of a resolution urging the abolition of riparian rights by legislative action in the state of California and the approval, after a lengthy debate, of a resolution endorsing the Newlands-Broussard waterways bill, featured the closing session of the International Waterways convention at the Palace Hotel yesterday.

The riparian rights measure went through without a dissenting voice, with the understanding that privileges already held were not to be interfered with in the framing or measures for the abolition.

Discussion of the Newlands-Broussard bill occupied most of the morning and a good part of the afternoon sessions. The resolutions committee referred the latter back to the committee, the vote standing seven to seven. It was carried in the convention by a vote of 44 to 41. The debate was led by George H. Maxwell of Los Angeles, who argued in favor of the bill, and V. S. McClatchy, chairman of the reclamation board, who opposed it.

Government Marine Urged
The association also went on record as favoring a government-owned and controlled merchant marine.

Northern and Central California delegates had some difficulty securing the association's endorsement of the Sacramento river project, but the work now being done in the Sacramento valley was finally approved after Colonel Reese and Major L. H. Rand, army engineers, had convinced E. P. Troy that bay navigation was endangered through silt deposits.

Resolutions approving the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors channel project, the Los Angeles river project, the Salinas and Colorado river projects were unanimously adopted.

The address by George H. Maxwell on the Co-ordination of Federal Agencies proposed by the Newlands-Broussard river regulation bill started a lively discussion at the morning session.

Maxwell Defends Measure

Mr. Maxwell stoutly advocated the passage of the measure, which, besides providing for a federal water commission to handle such projects as the convention delegates had assembled to discuss, also provides for the expenditure of $50,000,000 in ten yearly installments for flood control work on the Colorado river.

The officers selected to serve during the ensuing year were: Charles M. Elliott, San Francisco, president; R. H. Norton, Los Angeles; Mrs. E. H. Green, Stanford University; M. E. Dittmar, Redding, and John Fairweather, Fresno, vice presidents; A. L. Craig, Stockton, treasurer; A. L. Cowell, San Francisco, secretary; A. W. Frye, Clearwater, executive officer for Southern California, and David B. Livingstone, Long Beach, assistant secretary for Southern California.

L. A. COMMERCE BOARD RADIATES PROSPERITY AT ANNUAL MEETING

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—More than 500 representative Los Angeles citizens gathered last night at the most notable annual banquet ever held by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, put a new resonance on the note of prosperity and gave to optimism a radiance it had not hitherto possessed.

Behind the idea that the West is upon the eve of great business expansion and that Los Angeles is to be the center of an empire revived commercially far beyond previous predictions was the combined conviction of the city's keenest analysts and most conservative prophets.

Following are some striking excerpts taken from President Mitchell's address:

"The Chamber will devote studios attention to the plan of making Los Angeles harbor a free port, patterned largely after that of the city of Hamburg."

"There must be established in Los Angeles a capital foundation of from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000, to assist worthy industries, large or small, which can conclusively prove their claim for support."

"Remember this is San Diego year. Yet everyone of us appreciates the necessity of helping San Diego to her well-deserved success. Make a note of the official opening date, March 18, and remember the Chamber's excursion train for the opening day."

"Made in Los Angeles! You may be sure that thoughtful consideration and substantial encouragement for film manufacturing investors will be an agreeable part of the Chamber's work this year."

"Just as we advertised our agricultural and horticultural opportunities, let us emulate the Romans and make all roads lead to Los Angeles."

"Unquestionably the Chamber of Commerce should at once establish and finance a propaganda to advertise our good roads throughout the United States."

ONLY 108 IN 1000 IN U. S. SAVE, SAYS BANKER

DETROIT, Feb. 22.—At a meeting last night of the National Council of Education, S. W. Straus, a Chicago banker, declared that although the United States is a prosperous nation, "we are not a prosperous people," and backed up his assertion with the declaration that one person out of every ten who dies in any of the large cities is buried in a potter's field. "Statistics show that in the United States there are only 108 who save money out of every 1000 population," he added. "This compares with 554 in Switzerland."

The only way to lay the foundation for the future thrift of the nation is to begin today teaching thrift in our schools, he said in conclusion.

SEALER'S VIEW ON WEIGHT OF FLOUR TAKEN

County Sealer George McPhee is more than ever convinced that he was a wise old guy who first gave assurance that "all things come to him who waits," for McPhee has been waiting long for a ruling from the state department of weights and measures that has just arrived, and that ruling is that hereafter all flour offered for sale in the state of California shall conform to the California standard of weight, no matter where the commodity shall have been manufactured and packed. This means that flour shall be sold by the barrel of 196 pounds or its legal subdivisions and that the half barrel shall weigh 98 pounds, the quarter barrel 49 pounds and the one-eighth barrel 24½ pounds.

The millers of this state have always packed the barrel of flour and its subdivisions according to this standard, but flour coming here from other states has been packed on the basis of 192 pounds to the barrel or four pounds to the barrel short of the required legal weight, thus handicapping the California millers to that extent and incidentally defrauding the consumer.

McPhee took this matter up nearly two years ago and ever since has labored earnestly to have it adjusted, and naturally feels gratified that his view has been adopted by the State Department as evidenced by the recent ruling.

Although under the ruling an immediate stop might be put to the selling of flour that does not conform to the California standard, it was decided yesterday at a conference held in Los Angeles with State Superintendent of Weights and Measures Chas. G. Johnson, at which Sealer McPhee was present, that stocks now held by retailers may be disposed of without reweighing and remarking, but that no more short-weight flour shall be received and offered for sale under pain of prosecution, and Orange county dealers will be so notified by McPhee.

MADERA COUNTY TO PLANT ON HIGHWAY

FRESNO, Feb. 23.—Madera county probably will follow Fresno county's lead in parking the highway with shade trees.

W. T. Kirkman of the Kirkman Nurseries, who is enthusiastic over the possibilities of improving the highway comfort and appearance by tree planting, said yesterday the Madera county supervisors are greatly impressed with the idea.

"Supervisor Charles A. Clark of Madera county told me the other day that he and other supervisors favor planting trees along the highway through Madera county and probably will be ready to start where Fresno leaves off. Personally, I think the idea is the greatest ever conceived."

"I am fully in accord with the plans of planting as a means of beautifying the state highway and increasing the comfort of motorists and others who use the highway," said Louis Gundelfinger, member of the board of park commissioners, yesterday.

"I am a great lover of trees and I believe no community can have too many of them. I think the silver poplar is an excellent tree for such purposes. Those planted along the highway south of Fresno have proved very satisfactory."

The tree planting movement is rapidly spreading to other counties. Kern county supervisors already have determined to beautify the highway with trees. Stanislaus and Madera county supervisors are seriously considering the matter. This has grown out of Fresno's activity in this respect.

Rheumatism!

How is rheumatism recognized? Some have said—

Rheumatism is a dull pain.
Rheumatism is a sharp pain,
Rheumatism is sore muscles,
Rheumatism is stiff joints.
Rheumatism is a shifting pain.

All have declared—Rheumatism is Pain.

Sloan's Liniment applied:—

The blood begins to flow freely—the body's warmth is renewed—the congestion disappears—the pain is gone.

SATURDAY WILL CALL ELECTION
BONDS, BRIDGE
AND REPAIRSBoard of Supervisors Is Not Likely to Include Boulevard
Or New Pavement

A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors has been called for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of calling a bond election to be held May 3.

From what could be learned today, it seems almost certain that the Board of Supervisors will ask only for enough bonds to build needed concrete bridges and do repair work on highways damaged in recent storms.

While Coast boulevard boosters are making a hard fight to get provision made for bonds for coast road work, it is a fight that seems not to have received encouragement in the minds of some of the supervisors, who, while they may be in favor of building a coast boulevard, do not believe the time is ripe for submitting bonds for

RELIEVES THE WORST
CASES OF CATARRH

Think "Hymel the Most Wonderful Treatment for Catarrh Ever Discovered"

Do not try to cure catarrh by using sprays or lotions; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be fully relieved is through a direct application to the affected parts that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Breathing the air of Hymel is the only known method of treatment that can really accomplish this. It is the simplest, most pleasant and probably the most reliable treatment for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

Numerous unsolicited testimonials have been received from prominent men and women who have helped by this remarkable remedy. Ministers, bankers, lawyers, even eminent physicians have given strong testimony as to the powers of Hymel.

The complete Hymel outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymel to last several weeks. This will effect instant relief in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then an extra bottle of Hymel can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of treating catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

The Rowley Drug Company have so much confidence in the power of Hymel to relieve catarrh, that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchaser can say that it did not benefit. Advertisement.

OF CUTTING GRASSH. W. Rohrs Objects Seriously
To Having His Barley
Harvested For Him

More arrests have been made of Mexicans who go forth to the nearby ranches and fill up their wagons with green feed for their horses. The latest complainant is H. W. Rohrs, who interrupted Philip and Luez Gonzales as they were harvesting a portion of Rohrs' barley crop. One of the Mexicans has been out of jail but two or three days, having completed a sixty-day sentence given by City Recorder Willson for selling liquor.

'INDIAN TROT' IS NEW DANCE OF BURLESON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The latest is the Indian trot. Washington society has greeted the newcomer with palpitating feet and it bids fair to outdo the maxixe, the hesitation and others for popularity. The Indian trot was originated by the Misses Burleson, daughters of Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson, and is of Hawaiian character. Dancing students say it really is a modern variation of the Indian dances of the West.

DOWNS GLENDALE
WITH A SCORE
39 TO 30

ORANGE, Feb. 23.—In an exciting game, the basketball team of the Orange Athletic Club smeared Glendale last night. The score was 39 to 30 in favor of Orange.

Near the finish Glendale made a sensational burst that had the Orange cohorts guessing. Hogan had been taken out of the game to save him for a game Thursday night in Los Angeles. Hogan is a wonder on defense, and his absence gave the Glendale team an opportunity to pile up a score that was rapidly cutting away Orange's lead when the game ended.

'DRY' RULE HYPOCRISY SAYS NOTED CARDINAL

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 23.—Cardinal Gibbons in an interview yesterday said:

"I am strongly opposed to any state-wide prohibition bill because I believe such a law cannot be enforced in a city like Baltimore.

"A law of this kind interferes with the personal liberty and rights and creates hypocrisy in the people. The history of the world demonstrates that man always has and always will use intoxicating liquors.

"However I am heartily in favor of temperance. I am also a firm believer in local option."

HINDUS SEEK GHASTLY
RELICS OF DEAD MAN

POMONA, Feb. 23.—Five Hindus, friends of Ramah Singh, who was murdered at Claremont nine days ago, came to Undertaker Hanson before the cremation and demanded a nail from each little finger, the first joint of each fourth toe, a chip of the skull the size of a half-dollar and one tooth. It was said they wished these for a religious rite.

The undertaker refused the gruesome relics. Employees at the crematory declare that similar offerings were made to them, but that the body was cremated, according to arrangement. The ashes then were given to the Hindus, who will send them home to be scattered on the face of holy Ganges.

The girls stated that they would appear at the city hall this afternoon to swear to a complaint for disturbing the peace.
